NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME

Report of the activity: FYBSc Orientation Lecture (Induction Lecture) of NSS

Date: 5th October 2021.

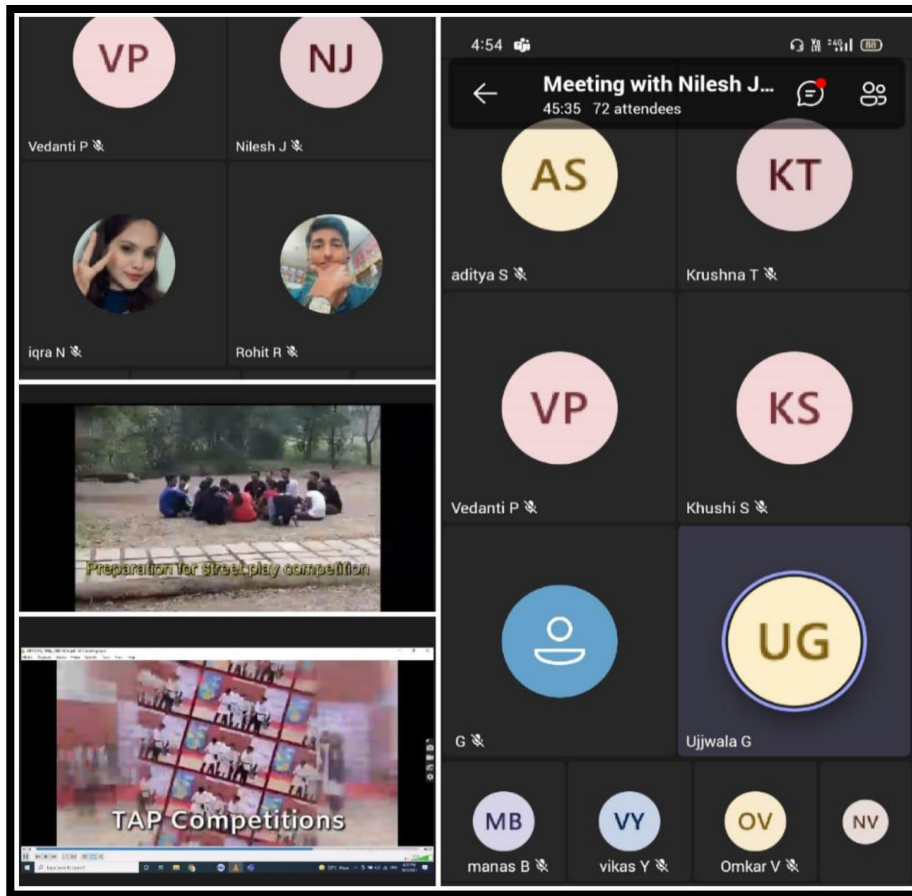

Time: 4 pm to 5 pm.

NSS (National Service Scheme) is the largest youth organization of our country and it recruits a large number of students each year. Students need to be educated about all the opportunities that NSS provides for them and the benefits of joining NSS.

For this purpose of informing all the recently admitted FY BSc students about NSS and to help them join in the NSS unit of VPM's B. N. Bandodkar College of Science (autonomous), Thane, an online orientation session was arranged on 5th October 2021. This session was held on the Microsoft Teams online platform at 4 p.m.

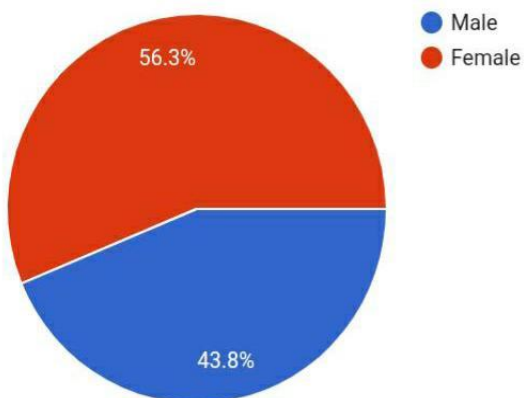

The session started with playing the Saraswati Vandana praying to the goddess of knowledge. Ms. Vedanti Patil (core head) gave an introduction of NSS and the events organized both on online platforms and offline at the college. She also talked about importance of NSS in developing various invaluable skills. Then, a short video about all the activities and events conducted throughout the previous year was shown. Also, Ms. Iqra Naikwadi (core head) talked about all the opportunities and platforms NSS provides to the volunteers, about various national level and state level camps for the volunteers. Another video on all the cultural activities and photographs from all the NSS camps were shown. A question answer session was discussed by NSS Programme Officer Incharge, Dr. Ujjwala Gokhe.

The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Rohit Rathod (Secretary of NSS core committee). Total 64 students attended this orientation lecture out of which 36 were girls and 28 were boys. Total 3 teachers were present in this orientation lecture.
